

Our philosophy: to think in a flexible way, to know products and market to achieve a total quality.

Comprital is, today, a leading name in the Italian gelato / frozen yoghurt industry. The company has a dynamic and flexible organisational structure that enables it to respond rapidly to the demands of the market. Streamlined and flexible, it also boasts an in-depth understanding of the sector's product and technologies. Thanks to ongoing updating in the technical and commercial fields, all this allow the company to offer solutions that always work - solutions that are innovative and able to meet the most diverse requirements. Another factor contributing to the succes enjoyed by Comprital is the company's constant commitment to total quality, both product and service quality, an approach that begins with careful selection of suppliers and extends through to the aftersale service.
