

Our strenght: technology research and innovation without forgetting tradition.

Comprital, which manufactures ingredients for ice-cream and frozen yoghurt shops, is the ideal partner for small and industrial manufacturers, both in Italy and abroad. Based in Settala, a stone's throw from Milan, the company, through its systematic and constant application of research, succesfully marries advanced technology for the creation of innovative products with due respect for Italian tradition in food processing.